CONSIDERATION OF EIC-R16-S5, "THE INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND TRANSPORT OF COMMUNIST CHINA, 1963":

The report was reviewed on a page-by-page basis and a number of minor modifications and changes were proposed and accepted. In accordance with one of the adopted proposals the word "summary" is to be omitted from the title of this and future issuances of the EIC-R16 series. [REDACTED] reported that the map of railroads and selected roads had been coordinated with the DIA and was being reproduced for inclusion in the report. The Acting Chairman requested that consideration be given to including more country data, especially for Free World countries, in the trade tables of future issues. He felt that tables should contain data concerning major developments discussed in the text. The Committee approved the report for issuance after editorial changes and commended the two responsible subcommittees for producing a well-written report.

(between July and September) but that, on the other hand, policy-makers have a considerable need for a preliminary estimate of China's trade volume and pattern as soon as possible after the year's end. He therefore proposed that ORR, early in the first quarter of the year, publish a preliminary study on Chinese foreign trade and then later in the year (possibly September) the EIC publication could be prepared after receipt of comprehensive official data.

The Acting Chairman stated he felt there was great merit in producing an estimate on the level of Chinese trade in the early part of the year that would be available for use in the community and that it would be possible for ORR to do this.

The proposal that the EIC publication be deferred until after receipt of the official foreign trade statistics was deferred for consideration at the August meeting.
